Additional Information

Additional investments are permitted.

A trust is a legal arrangement in which one party (the trustee) holds and manages assets for the benefit of another party (the beneficiary). It separates legal ownership (held by the trustee) from beneficial ownership (held by the beneficiary), according to the terms set out in the trust deed. The trust must be registered with the Trust Registrations Service (TRS). Trusts do not have membership or voting rights with the Society.

If you give notice to withdraw money from your account, you will have 7 days to withdraw the requested amount once your notice expires. If you do not make a withdrawal within 7 days, you will be required to give 120 days' notice again or pay the 120 day interest penalty for instant access to your funds.
